

Dear All,

Welcome to JKLU and the CCCT Course.....

Please find attached the Class Instructions. Following them will be mandatory for classroom efficiency and effective learning.

1. Owing to the paucity of time, students are to be in class as per schedule. Inform your course instructors to let you off on time for the next class. The entry to classroom will be closed 5 minutes after the class starts. The roll call will begin sharp at the start of the class. If you miss your call, you will be marked absent and no do over will be entertained. Students cannot leave the class midway without informing the instructor.
2. Please Check your Emails consistently. If you have issues with your university email account, Get It Fixed Urgently. All formal instruction regarding Course Outline, Coursework, Assignments and Learning Material will be shared via email. It is your responsibility to go through your emails and follow instructions on time. Personal/Informal communication regarding course instruction is not to be relied upon and will hold no bearing for any claims later on.
3. You are to attend every class with your writing instruments or a laptop. Empty hands precede an empty mind.
4. Operating Mobile Phones and using Earphones are not allowed in class, unless explicitly instructed by the faculty for a class activity. Failure to comply will lead to confiscation of the same and submission to the Programme Co-ordinator.
5. Class Participation is rigorously recorded and is part of your class assessment. You are encouraged to ask questions and share your ideas. However, the same must be done respectfully. Class Attendance is not commensurate with Class Participation, unless specified.
6. Lab Activities, including Critical Writing Entries, must be completed as instructed, which includes a revision based on the feedback in labs.
7. Assignments are informed ahead of time; submission dates are non-negotiable. Submissions will only be accepted in the format instructed.
8. Make sure all your submissions bear your name, section, course, and roll number.
9. You are encouraged to read beyond the prescribed readings and plagiarism of any kind will not be tolerated- guaranteeing a straight F in the assignment. Proper Referencing in your Assignments is required.
10. CCCT will set up workshops and events for you as a part of the course, attending them is mandatory.
11. Go through the Attendance policy carefully. There are grade deductions for absenteeism. Medical or Duty Claims are to be followed as per guidelines shared by the Controller of Examination.
12. Academics takes precedence over Co-curricular activities. It is your responsibility to inform and consult your instructors ahead of time, in case any co-curricular or simultaneous academic activity in other courses clash with class participation and assessment schedule of this course.
13. Personal messaging and calls (especially after work hours of 9am to 5pm and on Official Holidays) are not encouraged as an effective tool of communication. A WhatsApp group might be created for each Section for urgent communication at the discretion of the course instructor; a class representative will be assigned to handle the communication. No Spam is Allowed. Email will remain the official and primary mode of Communication, as it is a critical part of the CCCT Learning Outcomes.
14. Make use of the Open Office Hours set by your respective Instructors to seek clarifications. The process for interaction will be informed in class.
15. Your Course Instructors are here to aid you in your journey. Please communicate your concerns on time, via Email with proper subject, body and signature. No concern will be entertained for attendance or late assessment submission if not done in a planned fashion, ahead of time.
16. The following is prescribed as the proper grievance redressal order for CCCT Course related issues- We advise you to use Open Hours to reach out to your Course Instructor In-Person as the first point of redressal. The order of hierarchy for the escalation of concern, if required, will be as follows: Course Faculty > Faculty Mentor > CCCT Co-ordinator > Institute Program Co-ordinator > Institute Director > Controller of Examination > Vice-Chancellor. Every new concern will require a restart of the process. It is advised that the concern be clearly stated in an email to schedule a timely meet and that a due process is maintained.

17. It is advised that you use the Open Hours for seeking feedback on your assignments throughout the semester, as the format CCCT employs is that of continuous evaluation. The course instructor will inform you about a specific time slot for providing feedback ahead of the end term exam – once when your internal assessments are completed, and another after your end term copies have been assessed. It is your responsibility to attend these sessions at the stated time and raise your concerns in a timely manner, before the academic session closes for holidays.

Take charge of your learning for this course to achieve your full potential. We wish you the very best for the new Academic Term.

Thank you.

~ Centre for Communication and Critical Thinking